comes to the mind, for Frederick has developed a physique that is truly remarkable and which has won him highest recognition both here and in Curacao.

Born in Grenada in 1928, Frederick along with his ten sisters and five brothers (what a family!) went to live in Tobago at a very early age. There he grew up just as any ordinary boy.

In 1946 he came to Aruba, and it was here that he saw the first "MUSCLE POWER" magazine. This filled him with a desire to possess a powerful and muscular body, and he started on the road. By 1948 he had developed to such a remarkable event that he won the title "Mr. Aruba" as being the best developed athlete at the Queen's Birthday Olympiad that year. He again won in 1949, and after being beaten into second place the following two years, came back again last year to win the title for the third time. In 1952 he also won the body beautiful contest in Curacao from contestants from the entire Netherlands Antilles. For these many victories he has an impressive array of trophies on which he can gaze with pride.

For all his success, Frederick still sticks to his favorite game of body building and weightlifting, and dreams of the day when he can set up a Health Studio to help others in the fight to be healthy and strong. He always carries his muscles around with him and is always ready to give a demonstration (free of charge!) to anyone who wants information on physical culture.

Right now Frederick is in training for the coming Olympiad. Will he win again? Chances are very strong he might!

like to see elected to the S(pecial) P(roblems) A(dvisory) C(ommittee) during the elections to be held on March 18, 19 and 20, 1953.

This week, we also received two "letters" in which certain persons were warmly recommended by the writers. Beautiful "propaganda pamphlets" indeed.

For the benefit of these reader-letter-writers, we wish to make clear our standpoint in the matter. It is against the policy of our publication to indulge in preferences such as these. Why should we recommend one locally-hired employee and not the other through our columns- especially when it is our conviction that the candidate in question is not the best choice?

If we sacrificed our news columns for that type of cheap advertising there would be no end to it. Therefore, it just cannot be done!

However, the opportunity to conduct election campaigns does exist through the medium of our publication. Our advertising manager will be very happy to give every possible assistance in this respect and our advertising rates (f 2.— per column inch) are very, very reasonable. In addition, there are special reductions for large or repeat advertisements.

ELECTION TIME.

Several persons have requested us to write small "propaganda" articles recommending to our readers (mainly Lago employees) the services (and qualities) of certain Lago employees whom they would agreed, following lengthy discussions, not to fill the vacancies for vice-president, Assistant Secretary and Commissioner at this time.

Identification and Recognition.

The Aruba Press Association is officially recognized by the government and other official instances on the island as the representative organization of the Antillean press.

It was revealed at the meeting that several persons who are and (evenmore so) who have been associated with a publication for, sometimes, as short a period as 2 weeks, have used press cards issued by said publications to secure certain privileges.

While persons, organizations and institution are free to grant privileges to whomever they wish, the Association feels strongly that certain ex(part time) correspondents, not actually associated with this body, have created this impression to secure these privileges.

Consequently, people granting same, may be inclined to draw a connection between the actions and or behaviour of these individuals and the standards expected of members of the Press Association.

In this connection and for the purpose of easy identification if and when necessary, all members and associate members of the Press Association will be issued identification (press) cards during the course of this month.

The cards will be counter-signed (stamped) by H. H. the Lt. Governor and will be valid for six months after which time they will be replaced by new ones, of a different color. This for control purposes and so as to cope with mutations taking place.

Organizations, institutions and others who heretofore have recognized the Association and have issued separate invitations or authorization cards to the Association, as well as others desirous of cooperation with the recognized press body, will be requested to honor these identification cards and discontinue the practice of issuing separate cards. The editorial staff of the various publications will carry the responsibility of not delegating more reporters than absolutely necessary to functions, activities, etc. Complaints for violations of these privileges will be promptly dealt with by the organization's management.

Activities During The Past Year :

During the past year, the contact between the Association and its sisterbody in Curacao was maintained. The conferences with the Administrative Council, which started in November 1951, were continued and the cooperation has been excellent.

The privilege of KLM flights at half-fare for members of the Association on press business in the Caribbean area and Surinam was maintained and so was the ruling for sending copy of press matter to Curacao and vice versa.

During the year two members of the Association made press trips to foreign countries. Mr. W. J. Westerink covered the Olympic games at Helsinki (Finland) and Mr. A. C. Rijdsdijk represented the Aruban Press in Puerto Rico during the Caribbean Festival. The latter was possible through financial assistance of the Aruba Tourist Committee.

GENERAL WOOD MAKES ALARMING STATEMENT LAGO DOES NOT CONFIRM.

Distinguished visitor to Aruba this week was General Robert E. Wood, U.S. millionair-businessman and president of the Board of Directors of Sears Roebuck and Company.

General Wood accompanied by his daughter, Mrs. Calvert Fanfars, and a party comprising economical advisors and fashion designers, arrived here on Wednesday morning.

The group was on its annual trip to establish and/or improve business relations in the Caribbean area and South America.

During an interview with pressmen at the airport, general Wood answered several questions relating to Sears' business relations in the above mentioned area and expressed satisfaction with the progress made. In answer to a question whether Sears had plans to establish a branch here in Aruba, such as in many other places, the general answered in the negative.

One of the reasons being that Aruba's future is not too bright considering that the "oil refineries in Aruba and Curacao would be gone in 10 years".

THE LOCAL, for reasons beyond our control was not present at the interview, but according to the Arubaanse Courant's reporter, General Wood had based the statement on "inside information from oil directors of Texas and Standard Oil". The publication also quoted general Wood as saying that this is "irrevocably so" and "the Antilles should take the fact into consideration that the oil refineries in Aruba and Curacao will not remain here any longer than another 10 years."

This statement by General Wood has started another trend of uneasiness among Lago Employees as well as others on the island and was the topic of discussions on Thursday and yesterday.

A spokesman of the Lago whom we contacted in this connection, we quote verbatim.

"General Wood may own substantial amounts of oil stocks, but is no more able to comment on the refining situation in Aruba and Curacao than any other private citizen. If Lago can run its plant efficiently enough to compete with all the other refineries that are trying to operate at top efficiency, there is no reason to give. General Wood's statement any weight.

Capital expenditure planning continues to be done on a long-range basis, with no view to any close-out. Refining is growing in Venezuela, but it is up to Lago to remain competitive in world markets, and Lago is not changing its long-range sights."

Thursday night the results of the elections held in Lago Heights to elect a "May Queen" were announced. Winner was Miss Rita Arias, 11, with a lead of 15 votes.

Runner-up was Miss Yvonne De Freitas.

SEX DESIRES MAY COST MAN'S JOB.

Uncontrolled sex desires proved fatal to an employee of the Lago's Colony Service Department a few days ago. The man, identified as a native from Surinam, was found in the house and on the bed of an American employee of the Lago, in the Lago Colony. With him in bed was the housemaid of the latter.

When residents of the house entered the room it is alleged that the maid accused the man of rape.

The accused is married and held a supervisory position with Lago. Investigations into the matter are not completed.

B. K. CHAND RECONSIDERS.

News rapidly flashed through the refinery early this week that Mr. B. K. Chand, employee of the Lago and chairman of the L. E. C. had resigned from the Company's service.

Mr. Chand's resignation, apparently decided upon on the spur of the moment when somewhat upset, was not accepted and the L. E. C. chairman is currently re-considering the matter while enjoying a short local vacation.

ARUBA LOWER BOOM ON TIDEWATER, 15 — 1.

Aruba's all-star team swatted the dreaming Tidewater team with a staggering 15 — 1 defeat last Saturday night, making first place for future visiting teams to the N. W.I.

A fair crowd showed up in the open Stadium to watch the high-flying Tiders take another defeat.

Pitcher Dominu was off to a good start but was shelved in the fourth for Martin when the score was 7—0. Martin was relieved by Taigan in the seventh with the score 13—0 who closed the game 15—1.

Aruba's pitcher Roy Harms was unchanged throughout the game and almost completely fooled his opponents, allowing only three walks and three errors for a single run in the bottom of the ninth when Baisely rolled to Reid on second who relayed wide of first.

Aruba opened with a single in the first on two hits, and continued to score from the third to ninth, on a total of 14 hits, 3 errors, 3 bases on balls and 12 fanned.

Tidewater scored one run on no hits, 7 errors, 3 bases on balls, 5 pass balls, and 16 fanned.

NASH DEFEAT SCHLITZ 16—5.

Nash, in a desperate effort to top the 1952 Lago Sport Park Baseball competition, scored an overwhelming victory over Schlitz Brewers last Saturday at the Sport Park.

Schlitz was off to a single in the top of the first and scored another in the third on no hits. In the fifth, M. Royer collected their first single and in the sixth their third run was registered by F. Arends who got a ride to first and came in on a fast low ball to make the score 4—3 in favor of Nash. In the bottom of the sixth, Nash combined 7 hits, 5 errors and a walk for 11 runs.

The Lucky seventh yielded two runs for Schlitz on a single by Royer, two bases on balls and an error while Nash closed the innings with a single by Bryson on a walk, error and pass ball

GIARDELLO.

Billy Graham scored a unanimous 12 round decision over middle-weight Joey Giardello of Philadelphia in Madison Square Garden last Friday night.

In the first two meetings on August 4 and December 19, Young Giardello won by split decision, the second one touching off the famous double reversal rhubarb.

Graham, who fought with a cut on his nose from the first round on, won the two last rounds on the officials' cards to win his hard-earned victory.

Graham weighed 149½ against Giardello's 155½.

COCKELL STOPS
TOMMY FARR IN THE 7TH.

Tommy Farr, of Wales, who held the British heavyweight boxing title as far back as 1937, failed last Monday in his bid for a chance to regain the title, when he was beaten by Don Cockell, of London.

The referee stopped this 12-round eliminator at the start of the seventh round, because of a bad cut under Farr's left eye. There were boos as the 38-year-old Farr protested that he was able to continue the bout, and the crowd rose as he picked up the announcer's microphone and sang the Welsh National Anthem.

Farr, who was boxing before

Cockell was born, found 15 years too much to give away. But though Cockell dictated the fight, the former British lighth heavyweight champion never really looked good.

REASON UNKNOWN—As a newspaper publicity stunt in West Berlin, Germany, the man dressed as a knight in full armor gave pedestrians something to stare at, and wonder about. The policeman seems amused about it as the man-in-metal stops to chat and shake hands in their snowy surroundings. But what the odd costume was all about is any reader's guess.

JUAN DIAZ KNOCKED OUT BY ZONI LEON IN THE FOURTH.

Twenty-five seconds after the bell sounded for the fourth round of their international bout at the Nuevo Circo, Caracas, on Friday last, Zoni Leon, featherweight champion of Venezuela, knocked out Juan Diaz, the Panamanian featherweight champ.

From the start it was a good fight with Leon, on the aggressive, flooring Diaz with a driving left hook to the stomach.

Also on the same card was the Luis Barretto-Pedro Tesis 10-round der, which Barretto, newly crowned lightweight champion of Venezuela, won from the Panamanian on points.

During the night, Hugh Serville, welterweight champion of Trinidad, now in Caracas with Senor Henry Arrundell, and Baby Face Daniel were presented in the ring.

It is said that Daniel will meet Zoni Leon on March 21, while Serville may come up against Sergio Gascue on March 21. Gascue the welterweight champ, defeated Fearless Freddie Jr. by a t.k.o. in Caracas last year.

AGREEMENT ON LONDON BOUT.

The British boxing board and the American boxing authorities have agreed that the bout between Jimmy Slade of New York and Yolande Pompee of Trinidad which is scheduled to take place on March 17 will be a world light heavy-weight elimination contest.

RUSSIA'S MALENKOV WILL FOLLOW POLICY OF PEACE AND FRIENDSHIP

On Monday, Joseph Stalin, supreme ruler of Russia for 28 years, was laid to rest in Moscow's Red Square. In a vault of massive red marble and granite mausoleum nestling at the foot of the Kremlin wall, his body was placed by that of Vladimir Ilyich Lenin, founder of the Soviet state. Lenin died in 1924.

Three top leaders of the new Soviet Government in funeral orations over Stalin's body all spoke of its foreign policy as a "policy of peace."

The new order of precedence in the Soviet Hierarchy was indicated when Lavrenti Beria, Internal Security and Police Chief, immediately followed Georgi Malenkov with a further oration. Vyacheslav Molotov, the new Foreign Minister, was third to speak.

The new Prime Minister, Malenkov vowed to follow a policy of "peace and friendship" with all the peoples, co-operation between capitalism and Socialism. The Government would not permit the blood of millions of people to be shed he said.

NATION APPROVES

Beria declared that the whole nation approved Malenkov's appointment as Premier. He endorsed Malenkov's peace declaration, but added: "Our armed forces are provided with the latest and a complex range of weapons. With their experience gained in the last war, they know to meet any would-be aggressor".

Molotov likewise affirmed: "Our foreign policy is Stalin's policy of peace. A policy of co-operation and business relations with all countries."

SPORTY ARRIVAL—For the younger lads whose parents want them to look their best, this is just the thing. Big checks accentuate the sporty lines of the all-wool sport coat, which is worn in this case with rayon gabardine slacks. grenade, a capital offence under the state of emergency here.

Her case was taken up by world Communism several weeks ago when Hungary offered to release an imprisoned British businessman, Edgar Sanders, in return for her freedom.

British Prime Minister Winston Churchill tentatively turned down the offer, saying "There can be no question of bartering a human life." He added, however, that this did not rule out further consideration once the question of clemency appeals had been decided by the Malayan authorities.

TEXAN PLUMBER WEDS N° 17.

A graying 72-year-old plumber of El Paso, Texas who "wanted to set a record" said that he thought he did so with his 17th marriage recently to a 47-year-old woman of El Paso which he has known 22 years.

The plumber, who's name is Bruce Steele, said he couldn't help it if he appealed to women.

Steele has 31 children of which 24 are sons and 7 daughters. His new wife has a son of her own.

Steele said "that gives us 25 boys seven of the children live with us."

Steele also stated that he is a "good Romeo" and has been married 17 times to 14 women, and that he likes his wives to be "good women" who don't smoke or drink.

I married Nellie twice and Fannie three times.

Some of them are divorced, some still living while some are dead".

The Holland Relief fund in Curacao has requested the "Arhen" to submit a complete report of all activities and drives staged in Aruba, to be included in a summary report of the Netherlands Antilles.

The board of management of the Arhen, which had plans to issue a separate, complete report, has agreed to comply with the request with the understanding, however, that Aruba will be given appropriate recognition in the report and not only mentioned in a "by-the-way" manner.

The Arhen Committee has also made specific mention in its report of Aruba's attachment to the people of the Netherlands, which was so unambiguously demonstrated during the past weeks. The Committee expressed the hopes that the Aruban people may once more be given the opportunity, through a visit of H. M. Queen Juliana to Aruba, to express their personal attachment and loyalty.

There is still opportunity to make Arhen deposits with the local banks.

U.S.S. TIDEWATER (AD-31)

The U.S.S. Tidewater (AD-31), one of the largest ships ever built in the Charleston Naval Shipyard, is named after the south-eastern Atlantic Coastal area of the United States, and was launched on 30 June 1945. Her ten million dollar cost was financed exclusively by the citizens of Charleston and Charleston Naval Shipyard employees, during the Sixth War Loan Campaign. The first arc of the keel was struck on 27 November 1944, at ceremonies attended by Rear Admiral Jules James, Commandant Sixth Naval District at that time. At the launching of the big ship, Representative L. Mendel Rivers gave the principal address, and Mrs. Robert N. Scott Baker, wife of the Commander of the Naval Shipyard, acted as sponsor. The TIDEWATER is in reality a floating shipyard. Nearly everything needed to effect repairs to fleet destroyers can be found aboard the ship, as well as many conveniences for the crew. The vessel is 492 feet in length, with a beam of seventy feet, and a full load displacement of 17,600 tons. When she was placed in commission, Captain Frank H. Ball, USN, assumed command, but the TIDEWATER was destined never to report to the active fleet. Instead, she became the accommodation vessel for Sub Group Three of the Charleston Group, Atlantic Reserve Fleet, providing berthing and messing spaces for personnel of that command. While in this status, the TIDEWATER was a part of the nation's insurance for survival should conflict come; and the low cost of maintenance and her subsequent swift return to active duty has fully justified her retention in the Reserve Fleet.

In September 1951 reactivation of the TIDEWATER was begun, and on 2 October 1951 she was recommissioned under the command of Captain H.S. Harnly, USN, and became a member of the active fleet several weeks later.

Since January 1952 TIDEWATER has been actively engaged in her primary mission — that of tending destroyers — at Norfolk, Virginia.

In the fall of 1952 TIDEWATER participated in Operation MAINBRACE, the first combined naval exercises of the NATO Nations. On 24 October 1952 Captain J.W. Ailes, III, USN, assumed command.

Currently participating in Operation Springboard (training exercises for U.S. Naval vessels in the Caribbean), TIDEWATER turned homeyard after stay in Aruba.
